About

Curtis Isacke practices in the Litigation and Trial group at McNaul Ebel. He has extensive experience representing individuals, executives, directors, financial institutions, and national and international companies in a variety of matters, including appellate, commercial, employment, qui tam, securities, white collar, antitrust, legal malpractice, and insurance litigation.

Curtis has represented clients in state and federal courts, including the US Courts of Appeals for the First, Second, Ninth, and District of Columbia Circuits, and in numerous United States district courts. He has also conducted internal investigations, legislative advocacy, and amici curiae briefing on behalf of clients.

In addition to his exemplary work for clients, Curtis provides pro bono counsel for clients in civil rights and immigration law matters. He has also represented minor children as a court-appointed guardian ad litem in custody disputes.

Prior to joining McNaul Ebel, Curtis practiced in the Washington, DC, office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP, where he focused on appellate litigation, complex civil litigation, and white-collar defense.
