About

Michael is a litigation attorney and member of the firm's Litigation & Trial Practice. He represents corporate and individual clients on a wide range of complex commercial litigation, securities, and insurance recovery matters.

Michael also represents videogame and interactive media companies in commercial litigation and pre-litigation disputes. As a lifelong gamer, Michael closely follows the videogame industry and brings this passion to bear in advising clients on key intellectual property matters and complex technology agreements.

Prior to joining McNaul, Michael litigated high-stakes commercial and insurance recovery disputes at Pierce Bainbridge Beck Price & Hecht LLP and Gilbert LLP. Michael also advised clients pursuing trade and investment opportunities in Cuba for Gilbert LLP's subsidiary, Reneo Consulting LLC, where he facilitated the first commercial import of Cuban goods to the U.S. in over fifty years.

Michael received his J.D. from The George Washington University and is admitted to practice law in New York and Washington State. Before law school, Michael received an M.A. from The Johns Hopkins University School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS), where he focused on international law, economics, and negotiation. Michael received his B.A., summa cum laude, from Saint Louis University and obtained a Fulbright Scholarship to research comparative politics in Freiburg, Germany.
